'Lumiere & Son have produced a show which matches their private vision with public accessibility . . . it pushes the concept of comedy to some harsh extremes, including some frenzied brutal slapstick that approaches murder while remaining funny'

Ned Chaillet, The Times

'Circus Lumiere is a potent, unpredictable and explosive mixture which runs the gamut of emotional responses, simultaneously anarchic and the product of strenuous self discipline . . . The sketches are far too numerous to list: altogether, they make for an exciting, if rather disturbing evening'.

Hugo Davenport, The Guardian

'Circus Lumiere is a show for all aspiring comedians, and for all who have ever laughed, it is hilarious, illuminating and disturbing'.

Lindsay Paterson, The Scotsman

'Circus Lumiere marries the sumptuous brilliance of the circus with an absurdish wit and an earthy good humour. This should prove to be their most popular show to date for it is a thoroughly contemporary magic circus. Gorgeous, accessible to all and certainly not to be missed'.

Ann McFerran, Time Out
